

BRING THE VETERANS READING BRIGADE TO YOUR SCHOOL

The Lehigh Valley Military Affairs Council has organized the Veterans Reading Brigade as an outreach effort to help recognize the value of our military, our veterans and their families within our communities. Their sacrifices have given our children the opportunity for a better life. Now, you can give them the chance to continue that service.

The program allows a former member of the armed forces to volunteer his or her time by reading stories of a historical or military nature to students. The books are then donated to the classroom or school.

It's a simple way you can help foster respect for those who were willing to serve our country and, at times, sacrifice all.

To have a veteran participate in your class at any time during the school year, please contact:
